Why doesn't the automotive industry do something practical about the present situation such as turn out a car which could sell at a price within the reach of the majority of people? Such a car would be welcomed albeit the highways might become a great deal more congested than they already are. However, that would be a secondary problem and one for which there would likely be found a satisfactory solution.

It used to be remarked of a person who was known to have attended school for sometime, even to the point of having obtained a degree from university, that he (or she) was very well educated. These people were regarded as a little above the average run of flesh and blood because they were well versed in academic subects. Nowadays, however, it is not such a rarity to be among the "very well educated" class as countless thousands enter high schools and universities across the country. Lots of people are being well educated these days but for what purpose?

these anys but for what purpose:

Higher learning, it would appear, has its place in the scheme of things and no one will deny that it is a good thing to be "very well educated" but one thing
the educationists are overtooking today is the need for educating people in skills required to earn a livelibood. Too much emphasis is being placed on the academic side of the public and high school curriculums and not sufficient on practical training. Most youths leave school with a headful of learning which, the find to their amazement makes them useful to no one hey must, they learn, now get some practical aining to enable them to make a living . . . a thing

This lack of practical training is a factor which

Here is a new light on the operation of the "big lie." Dr. Solomon E. Asch of Swarthmore recently reported experiments with several hundred students

These experiments showed only rare individuals able to make independent judgments and maintain them against mass opinion. The tests were as simple as judging whether two lines were of equal length. Dr. Asch arranged for seven out of eight students in a group to give the wrong answer. One-third of the time the eighth student—or "goat"—would agree, contrary to the obvious fact.

to the obvious fact.

When tested alone the "goat" always gave the right answer. It was also found that if even one of the first seven responded correctly the "goat" almost always did, too, Some individuals always went with the crowd, and a few consistently retained their independence of judgment. Some "goata"—or should they be alled sheen-smulthy; bush to correct the contract of the contract of

And yet, as the Government points out, the suite of the world over the past many years is such that of the world over the past many years is such that fourtance against another war is as essential as fire insurance on a home. People don't really expect their homes to burn, but they provide financial precision against that happening. Civil defence precautions are a sort of insurance that every home in a centre of concentrated nounlistics should carry.

centre of concentrated population should carry.

Just what is done to make people defence-minded is a question that has the Government worried. Boys who join the Boy Scout organization quickly learn its "Be Prepared" motto. Some such adult slogan that will be followed seems to be required.

However, a new try is going to be made and the essence of it is likely to be an attempt to make service essence of it is likely to be an attempt to make service in a civil defence corps glamorous. ### AMAZEMENT HAS BEEN EXPRESSED

A few weeks ago a news story came from Ottawn telling of a fast train sunsahing into a car. Fortunately the driver had managed to get clear of the vehicle but the amazing part of the story was that the train did not stop until it reached its next station. The way of the story from the contract of the story was that the train to the stopping was that it was being followed by only three minutes by another new the stopping was that it was being followed by only three minutes by another new the story of the story can be sto

The story as reported has never been contra-debt but it has caused a number of people to wonter the property of the property of the property of the been any, while the train made (is way to the next station. Would they have been left to their own de-vices until they were found by chance? This factor has strack people as being most unusual as has the fact that two trains would be running so close together. If the circumstances surrounding the incident are true there would seem to be room for some schedule alter-ations. Two trains operating on the same track and running only three minutes apart don't offer a very wide margin of safety for the travelling public or the

THE COST OF LIVING

The latest cost of living index shows that food prices have been mainly responsible for the highest evel the index has reached since it was introduced. level the index has reached since it was introduced, Actually no one needs the services of the Bureau of Statistics to tell them this—all they need to do is examine the weekly grocery bill in relation to other tensm in the family budget. Food is definitely the major item out he list and, despite fractional declines in some items, many of the stuples have increased AIM: and bread for example, have pushed steadily up-

Anix ann orean for example, nave pussed steamly up-ward as have potatoes and some canned and packaged goods which are used extensively.

However, there are some hopeful cost-of-living indications: The price of pork and eggs has dropped elightly. Potatoes are reported to be easing in price in certain parts of Oniario and the drop will probably in certain parts of Unitain and the drop will probably to be fell coally. The tendency is toward an easier marker for some other products. This trend can be hurried along by a greater pertripication in basic production by more and more people next summer. We will have to wade in and produce more of our food if we are going to play our full part in warping the food index into line with our pocketobook. One of the main eresons why food is expensive now is because there is a world shortage of some items and where an actual shortage does not exist, there is a sustained lemand. Only by increasing basic production can this demand. Only by increasing basic production can this be overcome. And until basic production is increased by the sustained effort of us all we can expect to continue to pay "through the nose" for mosf life's necessities. Full utilization of our gardens during the summer months is one way we can all contribute to increasing the supply of the nation's food, at the same time conserving our supply of cash.

YOU TOO MAY HAVE DIABETES!

This is National Health Week in Canada and a number of radio programs have been designed in corder to emphasize the fact. On one of these programs the people of Canada are reminded that there are about 75.000 (more or less) innocent victims of diabetes. That is to say there are an estimated 75.000 onotes. That is to say there are an estimated 75,000 people in the country who have diabetes and don't know it. What a cheering thought! Until most people heart this amounteement (coupled with a naive remark that the family doctor could remove any doubts as a country of the c whether they had the disease or whether they didn' whether they had the disease or whether they dient; particularly, if they were sease up to scratch. How-ever, any peace of mind they might have before bearing bits revealing statement is probably destroyed if they are at all susceptible to suggestion in the matter of physical allments. What a remarkable in the matter of physical allments. What a remarkable achievement on the part of the people who sponsor National Health Week!

National Health Week!

One would have expected, judging by the title given the week, that the campaign was designed to tell Canadians how to keep well—not suggest that they might be sick and didn't know it. But then the public might be slick and didn't know it. But then the public must not expect too much ... after all who can really tell you how to keep well and remain immune from disease? There are certain basic principles involved in living which tend to promote good health but there is no guarantee that they will work in the properties of the properties

Health Week, by such propaganda as it is now spread-ing, is not contributing much toward this end.

A CHALLENGING STATEMENT

A CHALLENGING STATEMENY
A farmer-lawmaker apeaking from Ottawa last week charged that there was too much of a spread between the price the farmer is getting for beef and the price the consumer is paying for it over the countier. This statement is based on the fact that beef has been on a falling market at the stockyards for several weeks anow but the prices over the counter ore will the same for within a very few cents) of what the yards. Consumers have been record prices as the yards. Consumers have been wondering why the savings being realized by packers and butchers in easing being realized by the packers and butchers in the savings being realized by packers and butchers in the
savings being realized by packers and butchers in the
savings being realized by packers and butchers in the
savings being realized by packers and butchers in the savings being realized by packers.

There is a possibility that one of the reasons why the price reduction is not being passed along to the consumer lies in the fact that the packers and pro-cessors have warehouses filled with beet bought in at the higher prices. They will naturally not be inclined to move this out at a reduced price. However, this set of circumstances would not offer any excuse for the many butchers who buy directly from the farmer.

KOREAN TALKS DRAG ON

progress, if any, of the Korean ceasefire talks, now well into their seventh month. A workable under-standing about the demilitarized or buffer zone that is standing about the demilitarized or buffer zone that is to separate the opposing armies during the truce was reached some time ago. Last week the Communities troops. Against these gains must be set the deadlock on the exchange of prisoners. Communist acceptance of an agreement that repatriated prisoners shall not fight again does not get to the heart of this question and it may prove insoluble on terms acceptable to both sides.

The major stumbling block is that the 180,000 prisoners in United Nations bands include scores of thousands who do not wish to return to North Korea. Among them are Anti-Communist South Koreans who were pressed into service by the invaders from the north in the early stages of the war. Others are former Nationalist Chinese troops who failed to reach Formosa with Ching Kai-shek and were dragooned into joining the Chinese Communists in the Korean attack. These men dread the idea of being handed back to their North Korean captors and masters. Yet the Commun-ists insist that they be returned en masse in exchange for the much smaller number of Americans, British and other UN soldiers taken prisoner.

The dilemma thus put before the UN negotiators and the Western Powers is a depressing one indeed. They might gain a truce in Korea, which they urgently want, by driving prisoners back into Communist ter-ritery against their will. Alternatively, by continuing to argue for voluntary repatriation, the UN spokesmen will risk prologging the coasefer talks and dragging out the war indefinitely. The logical way to deal with a dilemm is often to take neither of the undesirable courses, but find a third; and that well be the answer to LN's problem. As has been said here before, UN has surely everything to gain and nothing to lose by stating in detail the terms it will accept and presenting them as an ultimatum .-- Globe and Mail

NOT WANTED HERE
A Reuters dispatch from London says that the British government is preparing a plan to "divert" labor from what it considers non-essential work into what it regards as essential work by various indirect

Certain industries, says Reuters, are going to be deprived of the steel and other supplies they require for operation, and thus forced to close. The workers thus rendered unemployed will not be forced to accept other work, they will merely be offered jobs in industry other work. they will merely be offered jobs an industry which the government believes to be essential. Reuters leaves us in ignorance as to what will happen to these chaps if they do not want to take the jobs offered to them. Probably not many will be able to retire and live a life of ease.

The British, of course, have a right to run their arry as they like, but most Canadians will hope that the British pian will not give ideas to anyone in this country. Attempts at "directing" labor here during the 1939-1945 war resulted chiefly only in directing square pegs into round holes and vice versa.

ORIGIN OF POLITICAL SYMBOLS

Some Republicans in the United States have been so unkind as to suggest that the symbol of the Democrats ought to be the mink. At all events, this has been suggested as the 1952 Republican campaign slogan: "Let's drive the minks and the pinks out of Weshiesen."

Nogan terminal and the control of the second half of the control of the second half of the control of the second half of the control of the Immediately the bull moose became the moose." Immediately the bull moose became the symbol of the new party. The third party which nominated Henry A. Wallace for President in 1948 had no pictorial symbol to represent it. No attempt has been made, however, to blame the omission for the result.

IS THE TOWN STUCK . . . . AGAIN?
During the past few weeks there has been consulterable discussion in and out of Linday's council meetings relative to the town's sewage disposal plant. The Reeve, who is in charge of Town Property, has declared himself disgusted with the shoddy treatment also some indication that the wholesale and readi price indicat is out of line on the matter of falling prices . . . It seems to take a long time before a wholesale price reduction on products quickly disposable is felt at the retail level. However, the same cannot be said for rining prices which appear to be highly fitchile and subject to adjustment on a moment's notice and with-rining prices which appear to be highly fitchile and subject to adjustment on a moment's notice and with-reputile. Nothing could be more damaging to the cause of free enserpties not be more apit to lead to fix ultimate undring.

They are committed to act as consumers' agents in distributing the world's goods. For their own sakes and the future of their calling they For user own sakes and the future of their calling they should undertake to do so with a maximum of efficiency and for a just reward for services rendered. The public can help to promote this spirit by patronizing those places of business which have a reputation for "fair dealing."

SHADOW TAKES

The effect of taxes on the cost of living is clearly Illustrated in the following except from an article dealing with "abandow taxes" which recently appeared in the Winnipeg Tribune. The article takes as an

The distribution would make about 20 per cent:
the retailer about 50 per cent on cost.
This brings the distributor's or wholesalers price
to $5.91; the retailers to $14.86.
You recall the price from the manufacturer was $5. Now the tax alone has pyramided up to $5.86, made up as follows: $2.25 on the manufacturer's price

of the retailer.

So the picture is this: the consumer has paid $5.86 as a result of taxes, but the government collects only $3.26. You have paid $2.60 in "shadow tax," a hidden aspect of government financing that kicks a big hole in your spending power.

In the last half-century, a great change has come over that part of the Province of Ontario which is adjacent to the boundary of Quebec. #### LEAKS THAT MAKE FOR EXTRAVAGANCE

The Ottawa government's surplus now stands at $721,800,000 for nine months. It was supposed to be $30,000,000 for 12 months.

The 13,893,208 people in Canada have bad to contribute, in direct and indirect taxation, $721,600,000 more than the government figured it needed—or $52.65 extra for every man, woman and child in the country.

Or, on another basis, every family of three persons has been overcharged $157.95, every family of four $210.60 too much, and so on.

four $210.80 too much, and so on.

Canadians are paying these beary taxes through increased income tax, and through customs duties and excise taxes on many things they buy. The government is contributing to the high cost of living through these very taxes. Excise taxes, for example, reached $55,800,000 — just $41,000,000 short of the personal income tax collections of $639,700,000.

If the government had planned for a big surplus to pay of matonial debt, and had set this out in its budget, that would be a different matter, but it didn't,
it has imposed high taxes partly to siphon of it

All this talk about the highly inflammable sweaters recently sold in this area and in the United States recalls the time when it was the custom for men to wear a similarly rapid-burning material around their necks. beef continues to recede to a level more in keeping with the people's ability to pay?

This latest more by the government is just one more in a series almed at "planning" the economy of a series almed at "planning" the economy of butter (despite margarine's introduction). The plan of very margine is margarine's introduction, the cause of past high prices of beef, overtaxation and a nearing cost of living index. A remarkably fine record which is topped off with this latest accessive management—price support, for hogs which will prevent an over price. It is not likely no bearing pork as a lower price. It is not likely as a lower price, it is not likely not not no action to prevent them paying too much when become to and to he last that the government took no action to prevent them paying too much when bacon and pork prices went out of sight. The public didn't like paying those high prices but they never dreamed they would be ruthlessly deprived of the privilege of en-joying lower prices when the market changed.

THE PRICE SPREAD IN MEATS CRITICIZED BY PRODUCER AND CONSUMER

The price spread in meats between the time the ner sells his livestock at the stockyards and the time it reaches the consumer is coming in for some severe criticism by the producer and the consumer. To what extent it is justified is not clear because of the fact that only someone in the business can furnish the race that only someone in the desires can arrive the occessory data upon which to judge the matter. Up until the present moment no one in the wholesale or retail meat business has seen fit to justify the prices asked at these levels in the light of costs. In view of this, and in the light of prevailing dissatisfac-tion, the only way the matter could be successfully put to a test would be for the dissatisfied parties to rform a marketing experiment.

If the farmer feels the price he receives for his oduct is too much out of line with what the conmer has to pay for it, the only logical solution to ossible purchases direct from the farmer. By working out such an arrangement the farmers making the experiment would be able to learn at first hand the cost of marketing their products and the consumer would quickly learn whether or not the arrangement was to his benefit. Theoretically it would seem like an deal arrangement whereby the farmer would receive more money for his produce and the consumer would benefit by being able to purchase at a lower price. Whether or not this would follow in practice is something clsc again.

It might be a good thing for the wholesale-retail trade if the farmer and the consumer could get a little closer together in their dealings. Even if only a portion of the trade now being done between them in a roundabout way were put on a direct basis it is ssible this would have a steadying influence on the where there is dissatisfaction the only thing to do is to try and remove it by seeking a solution to the problem .... Unless talk is backed by action there will be no improvement wrought in any perplexing situation such as is under discussion.

Production of food in Canada has actually been on the decrease. For instance, in 1950 only 357,000 hogs a month moved through Canadians abstoring, as compared with 731,000 a month in 1944. In 1945 cattle slaughterings were 152,000 a month: in 1950 they were 197,000 a month. Butter production showed a similar dismals record were. they were 107,000 a month. Butter production showed a similar dismai record over a seven-year period from 1943 to 1950, falling from 312,000,000 pounds to 262,-000,000 pounds. In 1947 Canada exported more than 50,000,000 dozen eggs in the shell and another 12,000,000 dozen in powder. Last year Canada had to import eggs from the United States and Holland to meet domestic requirements.—Moncton Transcript

WHY NOT LET THE PEOPLE DECIDE?

There has been extensive comment made on the subject of whether to continue designating Canada as "dominion". The leader of the Liberal Government seems determined to have the word "dominion" erased seems determined to have the word "dominion" erased and upon someon's orders the word has afready disappeared from certain conspicuous places. For example, after years of being accustomed to looking up government assencies in the telephone directory under the heading of "Dominion of Canada", the people have long and furning those who had not been enlightened as to the change, which has now been in effect some while, are tipped off that they should look under the "g" listings for "Government of Canadas". Of prefix from "dominion" to "government" on a under purpose, the fact that that he had not been sufficiently in the properties of th pose, the fact that such a change was made without recourse to the people was entirely presumptious. The people of Canada have grown attached to the original title conferred upon the country following confederation. For the most part they have no fault to find with it and it is doubtful, if asked, if they would desire to be to quit trying either to after the title of the country, reverse any changes to date, and let the matter rest until the next federal election. At that time the people of Canada could decide the question No individual or government should

VERY GENEROUS OF THE GOVERNMENT

at me source received the joyium news the other day that the Government of Canada was going to give them back $80,000,000 in cash. The government, it seems, overcharged them by this amount when the deductions were being made and now it is offering to refund it upon receipt of proof of claim. This is very generous of it but it would be interesting to know how it justifies the continuance of a system of income tax payments which necessitates all this re-accounting Many people who have taxes deducted at the source are wondering why this system should continue is effect when it is obviously subject to so much inaccur acy. These people would be interested too, to know why they should be called upon to make a settlement of their income tax before their financial affairs for the year are settled. They would no doubt also like to hear some explanation of why they should have their income tax deducted at the source while all other their income tax deducted at the source while all other income has payers reserve the right to pay their taxes at the time prescribed for settling up.

— Is it not a strange set of circumstances in which these people find themselves? They are depirted of the use of their trill carnings during the year and forced to low to the sopremment's demand that they pay their income tax before it is legally due. The hundreds of thousands of dollars which are deducted from weekly, semi-monthly or monthly pay envelopes to cover taxes which are not yet due represents capital which has an earning power, the revenue from which rightfully belongs to the people it is deducted from. But do these people benefit therefrom? Are they al-lowed so much off their total taxes in lieu of interest on their money as a premium for having paid their income tax in advance? Such a procedure is custom-ary with many lower plane governments which seek to have taxes paid promptly and encourage the tax-payer to do so by offering a discount so why shouldn't the same principle apply to income tax payments?

It would be interesting to know just how many oppe feel that the government is justified in col-ting taxes from them before their due date and without offering any compensation for the hard-carned cash it confiscates. (On an income tax contribution of $200 nominal interest of 4 per cent for the use of this money in advance would amount to $8 for the . . the price of a new hat or some other

IT OPERATED FOR THREE MONTHS

WITHOUT TROUBLE

It may come as a surprise to many Lindsay citizens to learn that their sewage disposal plant operated successfully for three months last year. It began operations on September 7th and continued through until December 11th when the pumps at the Colborne St. pumping station went out of order. At the same time as the pumps went out of order, damage occurred to the stirring arm of the settling basin's mechanism at the main plant in Ops Township. Since that time the pumps have been in for repair or replacement, the arm on the settling basin is still damaged and the plant sits idle. It is now over two months since the break-down and nothing has been accomplished except to send the pumps away to be put in order. As near as can be learned from the engineering firm, it will be well into March before the plant is again in operation. And it may be later than that unless someone gets busy and has the stirring arm of the settling basin straightened and ready when the renewed pumps arstraightened and ready wheat the renewed pulse ar-rive back. This job may prove bigger than it appears on the surface and may necessitate further needless delay in getting the plant back into operation if left until the last minute to tackle.

A lot of time has been wasted trying to pin down the responsibility for the plant's operating failure and the responsibility for the plant's operating failure and to disclaim ownership of the plant until it was placed in proper working order. It now seems apparent that the plant operated successfully for three months, it's the town's because the town bought and paid for it. and the thing to do now is to get it going. A 250 to 300-thousand-dollar sewage disposal plant is much too costly an object to be used as a football. The time to have asked for guarantees was when the equipment have made sure the plant was in satisfactory condition

A PAIN IN THE NECK.
Unlisted among thin's that give people a pain in

usually by clothing experts, never include the names
